by authority to keep a sharp look-out for any lack in the educational system, they are in charge of.

You are one of those private intellects and your work one of the very good productions of the day by which your claims upon admirations and regards of beginners are fully established. I ran through it in quest of any shortcoming in order to bring a charge against you, but at last had to close it, disappointed of my attempt. In short the manner is faultless. The peculiar advantage which the simple character of its style gives to the book is the facility with which the beginners for whom it is chiefly designed can take the sense within the range of their comprehension.

Another value of it is that notwithstanding its being a small thing, it contains almost all the words and idioms that are used generally in practical requisites of ordinary life of man.

The good manner with which you have prepared the book affords sufficient reason to hope that the other productions of your pen will be of equal service to school boys as well as to the reading public in general.

I also hope that it will serve as an example to your countrymen and other public spirited men who take it as their duty to elevate their fellow-creatures by suitable means.

Yours truly,

Molvi Syud Nusrat Ali Sahib. (Sd.) DYAL SINGH, Sardar of Umballa.

MUFID-I-AM.

This book is already so much known and appreciated that I must apologize for reviewing it now. I would have fair refrained from doing so bad I had not the public interest in view. I say public opinion because it is injustice to the public if I grudge to give my opinion, which, as the author thinks, may be of use in its circulation. And though I don't believe that my remarks good or bad will add much towards its reputation or otherwise, yet knowing that I will have to repeat only that which has been already said I feel no end of relief in undertaking the difficult, but delightful task of reviewing it.

Indifferent as I am to all new publications I confess that I read this with great interest from the beginning to the end, and found it very useful to all sorts of students. I mean for such who read in schools, as well as those who study privately. But its advantages are not confined to natives only; Europeaus not knowing the language of the country will find it the best handbook for acquiring a colloquial knowledge of the vernacular. Besides this it has the advantage of being written with the view of giving elementary as well as elaborate instructions in literature. And as such I can not keep myself from recommending it very favorably to the notice of all who may wish to learn either English or Urdu.

(Sd.) PUNDIT BHASKERRAW,

Extra Assistant Commissioner.

We have received a copy of "Mufid isam" or a guide for all who wish to speak and write the English and Urdu languages correctly, by Moonshee Nusrat Ali. Although the Author does not pretend that the treatise would enable one to learn the language without the aid of a teacher, the pamphlet is so simply and yet sufficiently well written that a very little pains would be necessary with the occasional aid of one acquainted with Urdu for a person to acquire a fair knowledge of the language. We would recommend it to the notice of anybody who wished to learn Urdu in a hort space of time.—(Vide Oalcutta Murcury, No. 70, Vol. II.

Christian name of her husband, thus as Lady John Blank; to do so would be to give her the rank of the wife of the younger son of a duke or marquis instead or that of a baronet's wife only.

The wives of archbishops, bishops and deans are respectively, addressed as Mrs. A. Mrs. B. or Mrs. C. They take no title, as they take no precedence from the spiritual rank of their husbands. An archbishop or bishop would be addressed in conversation, the former as Your Grace by persons on ceremony with him.

and as Archbishop by persons very intimate with him, and the latter as My Lord by persons very slightly acquainted with him, and as Bishop by his brother bishops and persons well acquainted with him. In the same way a dean would be styled Mr. Dean by persons slightly acquainted with him, and Dean by brother deans and intimate friends.

Generals, colonels, majors, and captains are addressed as General A. Colonel B. &c., and not as General, Colonel, or Major, except by their very intimate friends. The wives of officers are simply Mrs. A. Mrs. B. or Mrs. C. It would be a great solecism to style them, either in conversation or otherwise, Mrs. General A. Mrs. Colonel B. Mrs. Major C. or Mrs. Captain D. It would be very ill bred were a lady to address her husband colloquially by his surname only, as Banks, Brown, or whatever his surname might be or to speak of him without the prefix of Mr. The usual rule is for wives to speak of their husbands as Mr. Brown Mr. Jones, and to address them by their Christian name

It would be in very bad taste were wives to address their husbands by the initial letter of the surnames, as Mr. B. or Mr. P. as it would be were husbands to address their wives, or to speak of them as Mrs. B. or Mrs. P. When intimate friends address each other by the initial letter of their names, it is by way of pleasantry only, a sort of pretence at trying to be volgar, and such cases, of course, do not come within the rules of etiquette. From Manners and Tone of Good Society, by a Member of the Aristocracy.

Dear Sir,

. I sm much obliged to you for the number in which you have alluded to who Peace which has been concluded with the Amir of Afganistan. Pressure of work prevented my acknowladging your letter before this. I was a source of much gratification t me to learn that the settlement of th Afghan difficulty and the Treaty con and the second of the second of the second of the second of cluded with Amir Mahomed Yakub khan has given general satisfaction to the public and specially the educated Mahomedans of India. I trust it will be within my power to bring about friendship and confidence betwirt the people of Afglianistan and the British Concernment and also that trade and communication between India and Af ghani tin will rapidly he improved. " Yours faithfully,

🍦 📆. S. Nusrut Ali, Delhi. Dear Sir.

I have received the books you have kindly sent and thank you very much for them.

The Ataliq-i-Turki is a surprising book and a proof of your learning and abilities, but any thing that I could say in its praise would be out of place after the high and deserved praise already bestowed upon it by clever men.

I am, Yours Sincerely, (Sd.) W. HINE, Post Master

Delhi.

Delhi, 6th March 1879.

Sayud Muhammad, Nusrut Ali, Esq.,

Dear Sir.

The Managing Committee of the Matharpacady Conference of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Bombay, having gladly learnt that you command a deal of popularity, respect and influence among Mahomedan gentlemen of Delhi, they are inspired with the sanguine hope that a vast good will result by your intercession. They therefore desire me to submit to you the accompanying subscription list of the "Horse Purchase Fund" of the above in titution for circulation among your aquaintances and others who may not withhold their mite towards so charitable an object. The Committee are under the surest expectation that you will kindly accord your sympathy towards so praise worthy an undertaking as the inding of a permanent asylum for the infirm and totally destuted people under their charge.

I need not attempt to clueidate here the object and usefullness of the Society of St Vincent de Paul, but leg to metre your kind and pattent of this Society for the past year. I leg however to bring to your kind notice that this society is helping such of the poor as are compelled to seek cleef here under sheer indigence brought about by far advanced age, infinity, and distress, without distinction of caste colour or creed.

I request that you will kindly pass round (with the exception of H. H. Nawab Nubee Bulish Khan Bahadoor of Pelhi as they have already responded to our appeal) our humble appeal together with the subscription list and Report among the charitable centlemen of Delhi with such recommendation as you may devan fit, and by your doing so the poor and the Committee on their account shall be under your deep obligation and to the generous donors

The Subscription list to be kindly returned on or before the 15 of next month, for which the Managing Committee shall feel sincerely thankful,

Bombay, } I beg to remain, 22 Nov. 1879. } Ucar Sir,

Your most obedient Servant.

Translation of a letter of Adham Paless,
the Grand Vazier of Turkey.

Janob Fazilat Maab, (the most learned) Moulvi Syed Nusrat Ali Khan Slub.

The amount of subscription, for the families and ouphans of the soldiers of the arroy of His Imperial Majesty the Sultan, killed in the late war in Servia, and for the wounded, which had been collected and remitted by your honor, has been received in full, and made over to the Special Committee for the purpose of distribution to those who were deserving of the same Your energetic efforts, prompted chiefly by your idiglous zeal, have afforded great pleasure to all the unnispers of the Ottoman Government, and have been a conice of special satisfaction to me (unpretend facend). The amount remitted by you has not only alleviated the sufferings of the indigent and needy, but those who have received shares of this relief have, on finding that in the far distant regions of India there are persons professing their own religion. who feel sympathy for them in their distress, and who have applied the ointment of convolction to their wounds inflicted by the enemise of the Moslem faith, while receiving their shares, expressed their deep gratitude with tears of thankfulne in their eyes. I therefore pray to God who hopes all those that believe in Him, that He may bless your excitions and that you may receive ample reward for the same in this would and the next. (Sealed) one is laid up with fever here, Mrs. — is laid up with the monster near my writing desk. She had been very bad for the last 3 days. Rains have set in, and abundent crops appear very flourishing, your own compound is nothing but a long piece of verdure. Nature has breathed Arcadian beauty in every field. I always rise up early and promenade near your garden. I have to walk, as it is just 7 so good bye.

والونكلا ملكم

Yours truly,

My Dear Sir,

"The want of rain is being dreadfully felt" was the sentence pronounced concerning the Marwar in my last, want of credit and woe to him, who is too precipitate in the prognostications of such nature as this.

The rains have been very heavy since I dispatched you my last and if you cannot recollect its date say, from the 20th ultimo. It is no longer a desolate Marwar, no longer a dreary desert, nature has breathed Arcadian beauty in it, wood verdure, and water all conspire to make it tascinating. Draught is an estracized tyrant, drummed out of the country with the loud sound of thunder—Hark! I hear it now!

Enough of the news atmospheric, I should turn to news personal I am as healthy as possible—most of the Marwaris are so. There are a few more news local, but I keep them for my next; the cessation of rain for the moment and a sudden burst of sunshine induce me to walk to the city-Salam to.—.

Obediently yours, as ever.

BER MOST GRACIOUS IMPERIAL MAJESTY ALEXANDRA VICTORIA.

Queen of the United Kingdom of. Great Britain & Ireland And Empress of India.

May it please your Majesty.

This Copy of Jawahir-i-Zawahir, is offered by one of your Majesty's Indian subjects as a product of his hamble labors in Oriental Caligraphy and penmenship.

No Country and no language can boast to have such a splendid Caligraphy as Arabic and Persian, but unfortunately it is becoming extinct. It has been your Majesty's humble vetitionor's aim to release it from obscurity, and by publishing this book to secure a sort of guarantee for it from total oblivion,

Like the Archeological magnilicence of this country its Caligraphy is also remarkable though both are dwindling to utter exunction. But as your Majesty's Government has lately paid attention to the former: it is hoped that these relies of the old civilization may also revive under your Majesty's benign rule.

May your Majesty long live to rejoice in the loyal and greatful affection of the millions who inhabit your impire in the East is the prayer of.

Has ke no other children? No, Sir, he has two daughters, one of whom married Colonel ---, whom you know, and a son, who is in the west Indies,

. He has a great fortune undoubtedly,

It is not for money that he. marries her, she is an amiable and young lady,

He is right; the qualities of heart and mind are preferable to money,

Not only has she these but she is beautiful in addition,
